Profs Tell Score At First Gen Nite

Arts, Science Departments Represented

"What our department has to offer you" will be the main theme of the evening as nine professors are guests of honor at the first Gen Nite of the year, to be held tonight at 8:15 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

"The purpose of these evenings," said Keith Eddy, Chairman of the Arts and Science Educational Committee, "is to promote a spirit of co-operation between the faculty members and the students which would make up for the hurried contact in the class rooms. They are designed to provide both a means of social contact and at the same time an opportunity for valuable vocational guidance."

The topic under discussion will be, "What our department has to offer to you." The English, Political Science, Physics, Geography, Chemistry, Classics, Psychology, and Zoology departments will be represented by Professors A. L. Phelps, F. M. Watkins, E. R. Pounder, B. Zaborsky, Mennie Woodhead, Hebb and Stanley, respectively.

Dean H. N. Fieldhouse, will open the meeting with a short address after which each professor will be called upon to speak for about six minutes. A short question period will follow each talk, and a general discussion between professors and students will take place at the conclusion of all the speeches.

"This evening's topic was chosen," said Eddy, "to give students a chance to see what courses are offered at McGill and to provide answers to questions that may exist concerning next year's courses."

"The first Gen Nite was held on this campus in October of 1947, the name originating from an army term meaning General Information Night. Since then they have met with great enthusiasm on the part of the students."

Leonard Ashley Appointed New Daily Features Editor

Leonard R. Ashley, a post-graduate student studying for a master of art degree in English, has been appointed Features Editor of The Daily, the managing board announced last night. He replaces Elinor Kyle who asked to be relieved of her duties a month ago when she found her studies in an honour course plus part time employment left her insufficient time to handle the senior post on The Daily.

Miss Kyle, who has had several years' experience on metropolitan newspapers, will remain in the Features Department as Chief Staff Writer. The managing board expressed its appreciation of the extensive amount of work which Miss Kyle did in organizing the department and expressed regret that she could not continue as Features Editor.

Leonard Ashley has been on The Daily staff for four years, holding various posts from cub reporter to assistant editor. He graduated last spring with first class honours in English, winning the Shakespeare Gold Medal.

The managing board pointed out that since he is a graduate student, Ashley's appointment is of a temporary nature as several Features

Season Opens for Young Liberal Club

The Students' Section of the Young Liberal Association is commencing its 1949-1950 winter season of speaker-meetings tonight at 7:45 at the Reform Club, Sherbrooke Street, when Senator L. M. Gouin, K.C. will speak on the "Future of the Canadian Constitution." Senator Gouin is a prominent Montreal lawyer and foremost authority in the field of labor legislation.

The Students' Section of the Young Liberal Association is composed of University students from McGill, Sir George Williams and the University of Montreal, who are interested in the Canadian Liberal Party and Liberalism in the Canada of today and tomorrow.

Combined Charities Extended

The Combined Charities drive has been extended for one week it was decided at last night's open SEC meetings. This was due to the fact that only $600.49 had been collected to date and it was felt that a better showing would be made if the campaign was extended.

The objective for the campaign was $5,000.00. Although the Council felt that the present committee had done a good job it nevertheless urged that the members of the Council should aid the committee in its efforts.

In view of the fact that class lists were not available in some faculties, and that personal contact with the students is essential if the drive is to be a success, the Council suggested that each Council member contact the class representatives of their respective faculties. The co-operation of the class presidents it was felt was essential in order that as many students as possible be personally solicited for their donations.

The Council believes that if everyone would do their part the drive would meet with success. Tomorrow is tag-day, and all monies collected will go to the Combined Charities. This was to have been the end of the current drive and the last of the affairs in aid of this campaign. Although the drive has been extended it is not known as yet whether any more fund-raising schemes will be undertaken.

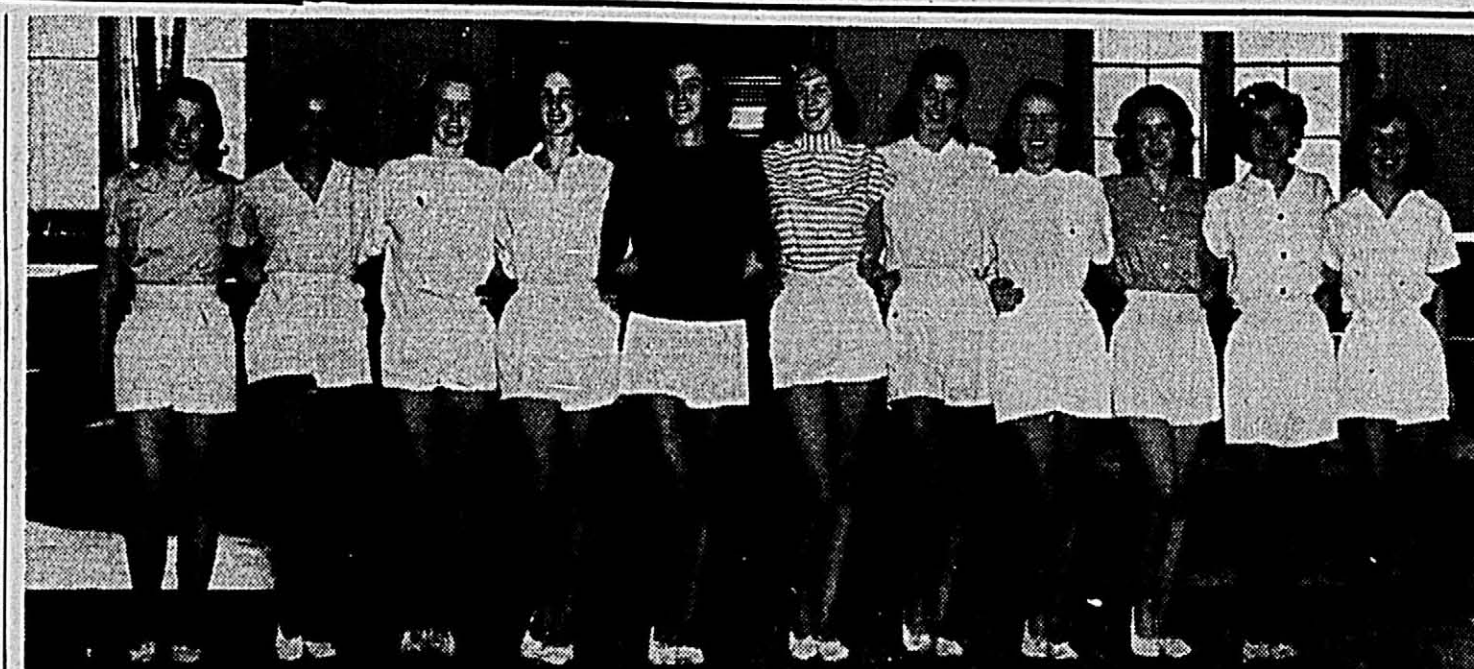

Council members believe that one dollar should be the minimum donation of any student. If this was adhered to, it was felt, the drive could not help but meet with success.

Campaign Chairman Barbara Watson told the Daily last night that in the future donations could be turned in to Mr. Shackell, the Secretary-Treasurer of the Students' Society.

staffers are now being trained for senior posts. Other promotions in the department announced by the managing board were as follows: Moe Diner and Milton Winston, senior staff writers; Goldie Kaplansky, staff writer; George Szasz, cartoonist; and Beverly Horton and Elizabeth Anne Sumner, desk editors.

LEONARD ASHLEY, who was made Features Editor yesterday upon the resignation of Elinor Kyle.

SHAPES OF THE PAST: Campus types from an earlier year, gleaned from The Daily's unpublished file, present their pulchritude for the photographer as they rehearsed routines for an Athletics Night performance. Their counterpart this year will make their appearance on Saturday, Dec. 10, when the first Athletics Night of the year is held in the Sir Arthur Currie Gym.

Editor-in-Chief Quits

The Editor-in-Chief and the Managing Editor of 'The Gateway', University of Alberta's student newspaper have resigned. Last week all assistant editors also quit.

Dr. Jonas To Speak on 'Israel Today'

Dr. Hans Jonas of the Hebrew University will speak on 'Israel Today' in Room 25, Dawson Hall, tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Jonas, now with McGill via the Lady Davis Fellowship, studied at Heidelberg and received his Doctor's degree at Marburg University in Germany. After continuing his studies in England, he emigrated to Palestine in 1938 and took up the duties of lecturer in Philosophy at the Hebrew University.

In 1940, with the advent of war, he volunteered for service in the British Army, and served as an officer in the Jewish Brigade in Western Europe and Mediterranean Theatres. He returned to Palestine on discharge in 1946 and resumed his duties at the Hebrew University as well as teaching at the British Council School of Higher Studies. During the Arab-Jewish conflict he served as an officer in the Israeli Army and still retains his reserve commission.

In addition to the speaker, movies will be shown and refreshments served. All students are invited to attend.

Liberals Say Housing Not Emergency

"Is the housing situation a national emergency?" was the main topic under discussion at the Liberal meeting held in the Union yesterday.

Frank Hughes suggested that the present situation is made worse by the bickering between the provinces. "The dominion could step in and declare a national emergency," he said. John Piper said that the government would then be on controversial ground, and an unwise political issue might ensue. The motion to amend the resolution by adding "declare the situation a national emergency" was defeated.

Frank Hughes said that "We want to get at the basic problem of housing. We must establish a housing board and minimum requirements. Half a million families were without housing in separate apartments in 1945. This figure was worse in 1948, but 20,000 new units were built so far in 1949. Two thirds of the population can never own their own homes. The Dominion plan merely reduces the down payment on the house."

Des Thomas, President of the Club, stated that the present plan was good, even though it would be 20 years before everyone will be suitably housed. "Only highly skilled workers can afford winter's houses," he said.

Another member replied that anyone earning $50 can afford to pay $40 rent per month, the rent charged in the housing projects. "The average wage per week is about $48.50," he said.

Athletics Night Features Chorus Line and Sports

A chorus line will be the main feature of the first Athletics Night to be held on December 10th at Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium.

Other events will include a basketball game between McGill hoopers and a Western University All-Star team from Ontario, a wrestling match against Champlain College, boxing against Queen's University and squash against Harvard. Movies of the last McGill-Western game and a ski movie will be shown.

Sheila Bowland, past dancer in the Red & White Revue and in last year's Athletics Night Chorus Line, is Director of the chorus. She announced that the first try-outs for the chorus will be on November 24th in the Union Ballroom at 1 p.m. All girls on the campus are eligible, and those interested are asked to bring shorts with them. The pianist for the chorus line this year is Miss Carey Brody. Practices will be held all next week during the lunch hour.

The chorus line was first introduced at an Athletics Night three years ago. However the senate felt that the girls were undignified in their costumes and forbade any future chorus line to enter the Gym if it were not on a stage. Bob Paterson, last year's Chairman, had a moveable platform built to carry the girls and the idea was accepted.

This year the chorus line is to dance on a portable stage which will be set up by stewards. These stewards, a feature of Athletics Night, are responsible for organizing the Gym before the night begins. They see to it that the Gym is decorated, put up the boxing rings, and stands for spectators. Once Athletics Night is under way they are responsible for keeping order, and holding back crowds.

Reduction Announced In Laurentian Trip

Within the past twenty-four hours there has been a reduction of $36.00 in the price of the Cosmopolitan Club's outing up north to be held this week-end. The price, announced to be $40.00 in yesterday's Daily, has been chopped down to $4.00. This will cover the entire expense of the weekend, including train fare.

Conservatorium of Music In Process of Demolition

One of McGill's historic landmarks will soon disappear. It is the Old Conservatorium of Music building, which is now in the process of being torn down. It was dismantled by the foreman of the demolition crew that this work would take a month.

Meanwhile the Faculty of Music has moved into its new home on Drummond street. The new conservatorium is a large red brick building, surrounded by an acre of land. This building was formerly the Angus Residence and was purchased by McGill this month. It will be officially opened by Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill, next Monday.

Walls Shook

"We loved the old conservatorium, and had all become quite attached to it, but it was in a shockingly dangerous state," said Dean Douglas Clarke of the Faculty of Music. "As a matter of fact," he continued, "every time a vehicle passed outside, the very walls shook."

The former conservatorium was first used in September, 1904, and was officially opened by Their Excellencies, Lord and Lady Minto in October of the same year. The first M.B. degree was conferred on June 9, 110. In 1923 the building was decided to the University by Lady Strathcona, in accordance with the wishes of her father, Lord Strathcona. The present dean of the music faculty received his appointment in 1930.

Long Climb

"Our only objection to the new building is the long climb up Drummond street," said Dean Clarke. "But it is peaceful, compared to our old building which was on a very noisy corner. We hope to build a new conservatorium someday in the future."

The old conservatorium was condemned by the City of Montreal. It was gradually sinking into the ground.

GOING DOWN: Shown above is the building which formerly housed the McGill Conservatorium of Music. The building, which was condemned, is now being torn down. The music faculty has moved to new premises on Drummond street.

Dawson Blood Clinic

The Blood Clinic will be at Dawson College all day Thursday, November 24th. This is an important service and all students are requested to donate blood. Appointments can be made in the Dining Hall.

Multicoloured Hoods for Future Grads

An innovation in the form of a multicoloured hood was introduced for McGill's future convocations when the Senate recently authorized the new colours of hoods for the degrees of Bachelor of Fine Arts and Doctor of Applied Science. This is the first time in the university's history that the departure from a single colour has been made. Mr. Matthews, the registrar, said yesterday.

The colour of the lining of the hood for the degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts will be one half pale blue, as in the B.A. hood, and one half white. The hood for the new degree of Doctor of Applied Science will be scarlet cloth with one half lined in pale green, as in the Ph.D., and one half lined in yellow, as in the B.Sc.

The division between the colours in each case will be vertically down the centre seam of the hood. In the Fine Arts hood the right hand side will be blue and in that of the Doctor of Applied Science the right hand side will be green.

Mr. Matthews added that he did not think that the new Fine Arts colours would be seen in the next convocation as he believed there would be no candidates for this degree until 1951.

Thomson Inaugural Tonight

A series of inaugural lectures from Professors of the Divinity Faculty will be initiated by Dean J. S. Thomson, D.D., LL.D., F.R.S.C., in Moyle Hall on November 24 at 8:30 p.m. when he speaks on the subject "Knowledge of God."

Dean Thomson is the J. W. McConnell professor of Philosophy and Psychology of Religion and Dean of McGill's faculty of Divinity.

He was born in Stirling, Scotland and entered Glasgow university in 1910, graduating with an M.A. in 1914 when he won first class honours in Mental Philosophy. On graduating he was appointed to the John Clark fellowship in philosophy for 4 years then he entered Trinity College, Glasgow to study Theology. His studies were interrupted by World War I. He served first in the Queen's Own Regiment and later was a commissioned officer in a Rifle Brigade. He retired from the Army in 1919 with the rank of captain and resumed his theological studies, graduating in 1920.

Upon graduation he was called to be minister of Middle Church, Coatbridge until 1924. From 1924 to 1930 he was secretary for youth and education to the United Free Church of Scotland.

He then came to Canada in 1930 and first went to Pinehill Divinity College, Halifax, N.S. where he was professor of systematic theology and philosophy of religion. From 1937 to 1949 he was president of the University of Saskatchewan and in April 1946 he received an

Dawson's Assets Offered McGill

Finance Group Daily Allowed to Air Money Problem At All SEC Meetings

Dawson's financial difficulties will be placed before a special meeting of the McGill Students' Executive Council, it was announced last night following a meeting between the Financial Committee of the McGill S.E.C. and representatives of the Dawson S.E.C.

Dawson Council representatives told The Daily afterwards that if the McGill S.E.C. would agree to accept the assets of the Dawson Council in lieu of that Council's debt, then Dawsonites would be quite satisfied. The assets are estimated at $2,500 while Dawson's debt is $3,481. This suggestion is to be brought before the S.E.C.

During the discussions, which followed the regular weekly S.E.C. meeting, Dawson representatives pointed out that they did not feel that they should be penalized because a previous Council had gone in debt. They furthermore said that their expenses were per capita higher because students there did not have the facilities that students in Montreal have.

McGill's financial committee however emphasized that they had no desire to impose difficulties upon the Dawson College campus but that the McGill Student Society's financial condition was itself not at all satisfactory. They agreed that the Dawson representatives points were perhaps justified. There was no alternative but to face realities; that there just is not enough money to go around, it was said.

Should the proposal to the McGill S.E.C. be accepted, the Dawson Council would be able to allow the money, recently frozen, to be spent and rely entirely upon the expected surplus from the canteen and snack bar for their other activities.

A glum picture of the present S.E.C. financial position was also presented at the earlier S.E.C. meeting by Harold Corrigan, chairman of the financial committee, and Colin McCallum.

Other items that came before the councillors attention:

After some discussion, the S.E.C. passed the Red and White Revue budget, amounting to $2,900. If the five-night show plays to capacity audiences in Moyle Hall the box office receipts could pay $2,500 of this, Councillors were told.

Before the passing of the Revue budget, Michael Ellwood, architecture representative, suggested that campus organizations be made to carry deficit from previous years. This, however, was countered with the argument that two "bad" years could ruin an organization by discouraging the in-coming executive.

A letter from Mrs. R. B. Shaw, director of the Red Cross Blood Clinic, declared the wishes of that organization to return to the campus.

Debaters Hear Rosenfeld On Technique of Rebuttal

Isadore Rosenfeld, will speak on the technique of rebuttal in the debating instruction course today at 4:15 p.m. in the New Room of the Union. This will be the second in the instruction series currently put on by the McGill Debating Society. Rosenfeld is probably best known DEBATING EXPERT Isadore Rosenfeld, who will address the debating society on rebuttal technique.

By a narrow 6-5 vote, Students' Executive Council member last night passed a motion that will allow Daily reporters to cover Council sessions.

Although there appears to be no constitutional bar against reporters attending regular S.E.C. meetings, the accepted practice over the years has been not to allow Daily reporters to attend.

In presenting the motion, Clyde Kennedy, editor-in-chief of The Daily and a member of the S.E.C., said he felt full and competent coverage of S.E.C. meeting by Daily reporters would result in greater interest in student government by the campus.

Most opposition to the motion was offered on grounds that "all matters that come up here should not hit The Daily" and "certain things just can't be reported." Kennedy, stressed, however, that when it was necessary the S.E.C. could meet in camera. He declared that elected representatives of the student body should generally speak for publication in accordance with democratic principles.

Replying to an argument that S.E.C. meetings could be reported by the editor-in-chief, Kennedy said that he could not both participate in debate and make adequate notes at the same time, adding that usually the editor-in-chief of The Daily is so busy that this method does not ensure adequate coverage.

The motion was seconded by Paul Macdonald, S.E.C. representative from Law.

Mines in Africa Subject of Talk

Mr. L. S. Weldon, consulting engineer of the Tanganyika Mining Concessions Ltd., will address the Montegrege Geological Society in the Union cafeteria at 8 p.m. today.

The subject of the talk will be Mining Experience in Tanganyika; an account of the speakers personal activities.

A native of Montreal, Mr. Weldon received a B.Sc. (mining) from McGill University in 1921. He worked on the staff of the Engineering Department of several mines in Northern Ontario. The period 1924-29, was spent with the British Metal Corporation (Canada) Ltd. as mine superintendent in various Quebec mines.

He became the underground superintendent at Lakeshore Gold Mines Ltd. from 1930-36 and was awarded the Leonard Gold Medal for his paper on Mining Practices in that area.

The next twelve years were spent in Africa with the Tanganyika Mining Concessions, working for the

A VALUABLE STUDENT SERVICE

One of the "silent services" at McGill, which render invaluable assistance to the students while being more or less taken for granted by the student body, is the Placement Service, a mere infant insofar as McGill departments are concerned.

Since its inception in July, 1947, the Placement Service has made remarkable progress in the assistance it provides students in the way of part-time employment during the session, summer employment, jobs upon graduation and help in finding new jobs if the one taken on graduation proves to be unsatisfactory from the graduate's point of view.

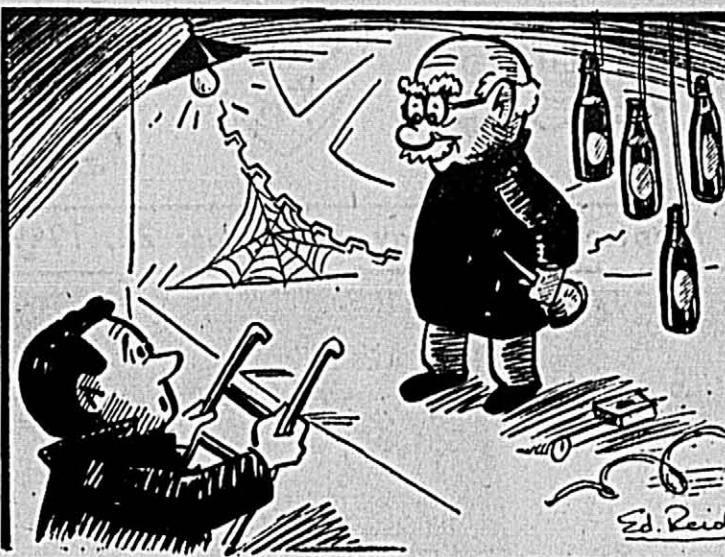

The Placement Service resulted from the interest which both faculty members and the Graduates Society had in finding suitable employment for students. To be able to announce, after a short two years of operation, that a total of 3,445 jobs had been provided within a year's operation, is no little achievement.

Each student is given a personal interview, a large scale job in itself and one of the many tasks of the Placement Service which do not show up as prominently as they should in the fine progress report given by the director of the service, Mr. Colin H. McDougall. The personal interest which the director and his assistant, Miss Ruth Peltier, and members of the faculty and of the Graduates Society, take in each student has resulted in a student service deserving of considerable praise.

The Graduates Society has been particularly active in aiding students in search of employment. Mr. Walter F. Brown of the Placement Service of the Porcupine Branch of the Graduates Society, for example, was asked to find employment for 13 students who wanted to work in that area. Within a month Mr. Brown sent in a list of the jobs. All the students had to do was to let him know their time of arrival — the jobs were waiting for them.

The Placement Service has sent "recruiting letters" to some five hundred companies during the past year and in general has rendered a very important service to students seeking either part time or permanent employment.

Elf Sabotage In the Clocks

by Milton Winston

Columbus discovered America, Einstein the complex relativity theory, Edison the electric light; but I, Milton Winston, humble Arts student, discovered the door leading up to the clocks in the Roddick Gates.

It is not a massive portal; rather a quaint tin covering on a wooden door. The entrance is in the back of the gates, facing the Arts Building.

Quite overwhelmed by my mammoth discovery I raced down to the Park and Ground Department. However my enthusiasm was slightly moistened by finding out that they knew about the door all the time.

Opening my little red bible, which I keep pressed to my heart, I read that the main gates of the University together with the clock towers, form the Roddick Gates. They were presented by Lady Roddick and opened in 1925. The gates, which are seldom opened, were given with the intention of providing a suitable entrance, while the clock towers were to enable students to be punctual. This last remark I could not understand.

Being a conscientious reporter I decided to follow up the lead and see what makes the clocks tick. I was given the key to the door by a man with a six foot leer.

Night had fallen, the campus was as silent as The Tomb. I had to pass through a group of thickets which tore at my clothing. There was something sinister in the way the tower stood so still, projected against the night. Finally the door was reached. I turned the key and the door opened squeakingly.

"Come in," a small whispering voice demanded. I stood petrified at this unexpected invitation.

"Come on in, stupid," it insisted. I stepped inside and the door closed firmly. Inside a small light shone from above and in its dim reflection I saw a minute head.

"Well, man, what's on your mind?" the figure asked.

Moliere's Comedy

by Helene Waksburg

"Le Malade Imaginaire" is a prose-comedy in three acts by Moliere. It shows the mania of a man, Argan, who wants to be sick in spite of nature and thus becomes the prey of doctors and of his wife, Beline. Argan wants his daughter, Angelique, to marry a young doctor, Thomas Diafoirus, against her will. The one she loves, Cleante, does not possess the art of curing; there is no hope for him to be accepted as a son-in-law by that stubborn hypochondriac. But all's well that ends well thanks to the cunning of the maid-servant, Toinette.

In the performance of this play, Les Compagnons have succeeded in portraying Moliere's main purpose; that is to make us laugh spontaneously. Their diction is to be noted for its clearness. Although most of the actors are good, our attention is principally focused on the person who plays the lead. He identifies himself so well with the character he is representing that we forget he is an actor. He is no more a comedian, he is Argan always coughing, doctoring himself, complaining about his poor health. The picture we have in front of us is an enlargement of reality but we must not forget that Moliere's intention was not to present us with a certain individual but with a certain type of man and in order to magnify the foolish aspects of his character, the actor has to emphasize his ridiculous features. At the same time, far from shocking us he must amuse us by light comedy. We may congratulate Mr. Guy Hoffman for having succeeded in fulfilling this difficult role.

He is ably assisted by the actress who plays his wife. She changes easily from the most hypocritical tenderness to the most hateful cynicism. The two daughters are sweet and simple. The lover, Cleante, looked a little timid and clumsy but he sang well. The young doctor and his father, played their

Letters to The Editor

SABOTAGING MODEL PARLIAMENT

Editor, The Daily:
We protest against the sabotaging of Model Parliament by the apathy of the Progressive Conservative and the weak-kneed vacillating of the CCF Clubs. When informed that we would be government in the Mock Parliament held during Freshman Reception, we were able to draft a bill, select speakers and round up a cabinet within five (5) days.

It was for that reason that we were not chosen as government for the Parliament to be held first on Nov. 17th, then on Nov. 24th. Before the choice of government for a club fails to give its elected executive sufficient authority to deal with such matters without referring back to the club for the most elementary of instruction.

This, coupled with the fact that neither the CCF nor the PC clubs were prepared (or able?) to take a stand on which any debate could possibly take place, led to this most unfortunate cancellation.

Hoping that this situation will soon be remedied,

Grunt and Groan Men Working Out at Currie

Every Tuesday and Thursday at 5 p.m. in the B.W.F. room of the Currie Gym one may see some stalwart students practicing the oldest individual sport known to man, next to running.

Wrestling was one of the major sports in the Olympics of ancient Greece and down through the centuries it has been very popular in Europe and is now on the upswing in America.

In many American colleges it has replaced boxing as the most important physical combat sport. The reason for this is to be found in its modern scientific nature and in its lack of injuries. The object of college wrestling is not to punish an opponent, but to pin his shoulders to the ground by using series of scientific holds.

At McGill the wrestlers are coached by Alan Turnbull, D.S.O., former R.S.M. of the Black Watch Regiment overseas. He has had extensive experience both as a wrestler and as a coach and is ideally suited for this position.

Practices have already begun and some of the newcomers who are showing favorably are Bob MacLeod, Tak Fujiyama, Frank Mollar and Dave Kolostinsky. Some of last year's beginners who are improving steadily are Ron Brand and Fred Suttle. Also on hand are veterans Ed Walters, Skeets Dorland, Tex Dawson and Wally Kowal.

The manager, Tex Dawson, would like anyone interested in wrestling to come down to the gym and get acquainted. This is an excellent opportunity to improve your physique and also to partake in a truly scientific sport.

Guards Top Senior Cage Crew 57-45 In M.B.L. Opener

By BOB GRAHAM

The purple clad Grenadier Guards Basketball team defeated the McGill senior Redmen 57 to 45 last evening in the Currie Memorial Gym. The game was the first of the season for both teams and the opener of the current Montreal Basketball League schedule.

Both clubs showed typical early season lack of form in a game that saw-sawed from one end of the floor to the other, neither team dominating the play.

Bruce Cunningham was top scorer with a total of 15 points to his credit, followed by Guard's Mickey McFall with 13.

The Redmen rallied under Bloom and Endman to make a fighting finish as the half time buzzer sounded, the score now being 27 to 17 in favor of the Purple Raiders.

In the last four minutes of play big Lou Milburn of the McGill squad was injured in a collision on the floor and was forced to retire from the game.

THE TEAMS

McGill: Bloom (12), Edwards (2), Cunningham (15), Endman (4), Finlayson, Fraser (4), Garbus (2), Merling (3), Milburn (3).

Guards: Bridel (10), Burke, McCall (13), Pickrell (1), Tate (8), V. Taylor (8), K. Taylor (8), Tremblay (6), Burke, Walker, Wilson (3).

Floor Hockey Play Continues

Six Intramural floor hockey squad lasted action yesterday afternoon for the first as three more games were chopped off the schedule.

In the first tilt, the Odds and Sods squad battled the Roughriders to a 6-4 victory which produced lots of action. Fisher was the big gun for the winners notching a pair of markers while Murray of the Roughriders went one better to pull the hat-trick.

The Moyses Boys ran loose in their game by white washing the Alkis 10-0. Szabr netted three while McNeil and Pakelanin each came through with a pair. Finley gained his first shut-out in the process.

In the last of the three tilts, the H.A.s pulled an 11-1 victory over the Blitzers. The star of the show was H.A.s Ponder who went in for five markers. Getting off to a slow start he failed to score in the first frame but came through in the second with two goals and three more in the third for a total of five. Laggolle poked in Blitzer's only goal.

McGill opened the scoring when Bruce Cunningham rank a beautiful hook from the pivot position. Guards fought back and countered with five fast points.

With eight minutes to play in the first half the Guards were on the winning side of a 15 to 9 score. Four more minutes elapsed before

Toronto-McGill Opener Set For Forum Ice Friday

With the first game coming up at 8.30 this Friday against their perennial rivals the Toronto Blues, Coach Dave Campbell is scanning the Toronto lineup with anxious eyes.

Toronto have plenty of players in their lineup to give McGill the Blues. Baldy Turcotte and right winger "Life" Boyd, leading scorers of last year's edition of the Varsity squad, are back this year and raring to go. Coach Wally Halder also has Intercollegiate All-Star defenceman Will Digby back, and rookie Rich Howson who starred on the Intermediate team last year, has given up football and will play hockey this winter for Varsity.

Coach Halder also has defenceman Ernie Frey and left winger Artie Bell back from last year's Blues. The crop of rookies also seem to be pretty good with Bob Bazos, whom Toronto Marlboro Juniors extended an offer, leading the list.

The goaler will also be a newcomer as rookies Gerry Carl from Oakville, and Orr from Upper Canada College are fighting for the position.

All is not serene for rookie coach Halder, however. Hutzluluk and Spence who were on the first all star team at goalie, and left winger will not be back this year, and neither will Henry who made the second all star team.

But if Coach Halder considers his problems tough, Coach Campbell is really in hot water. He has only five players returning from last year's squad. Hennessey and Sanderson on defence, Lafontaine and Rocky Robillard at forward, and Tony Dobell in the nets are those who are back. To fill the other eleven spots the coach is forced to rely on untried material, but this material for the most part has starred on the Intermediate teams of McGill, Loyola and Dawson. Also, the coach has some footballers who are in very good shape, turning out who are also good hockey players, and include the Robillards, Marshall and Malone.

Senior Polo Squad Routed by YMHA

By LEN WISSE

Fading badly in the second half, the McGill Senior Water Polo squad dropped a 12-4 decision to the YMHA in a game played last night. The game was originally scheduled as a Junior league contest but the Redmen announced their intention of using their intercollegiate team thus forfeiting the league game. Thus the contest was an exhibition tilt.

As in previous games this season, condition, or lack of it in this case told the story as the McGillians were unable to keep up with the winners. This was especially evident in the second half as the locals faded badly under the pressure and the Y pulled far ahead.

For the winners, Syd Kastner a star swimmer showed the way as he notched seven of his teams markers and was a constant threat. The other goals were scored by Novick, who counted three, and Medico with two.

The McGill scorers were Onesti, Walters and Cooper with the latter scoring two.

REDMEN REPLY

After 35 seconds of play, the Redmen went into the lead as Gerry Cooper scored on a pass from Skip Onesti. The Red and White kept pressing but the 'Y' came right back to count three markers without a reply. Two of these were scored by Kastner while Novick got the other. Don Walters then scored for McGill at 3:41 to make the count 3-2 for the 'Y' at quarter time.

At the 40 second mark of the second quarter Cooper made the score 3-3 but Novick scored two and Kastner one for the winners before Skip Onesti counted for McGill. Medico then added one more marker for the 'Y' to make the score 7-4 for the 'Y'.

On the whole the showing of the McGill team was very disappointing. Such renowned performers as Gerry Cooper and Don Walters showed a deplorable lack of conditioning. The 'Y' forwards were breaking with amazing speed and the McGillians simply could not keep up with them.

But the picture is not entirely black according to Coach Don Rose. He is stressing the urgent need for conditioning and the boys were in slightly better shape than in their previous outing. Ballou played a good game in the nets after he replaced Hops at half time and at times the McGill defence led by Joe Dickstein showed signs of snapping out of its lethargy.

Phys Eds and Spartans Win Hoop Contests

Two more games were played last night in the Intramural Basketball League. In the first game, the Spartans edged out Med 1 IV 25-18, while in the nightcap, a speedy Phys.Ed team topped the Powder Puffs 24-20.

In the initial contest, a fast breaking Spartan outfit took an early lead over the Med crew, and were never threatened throughout the whole game. John Lill sparked the Spartans with ten points, followed by Amaron who garnered nine points for the winners. Red Touhy led the losers, chalking up four field goals, while Colin Campbell added to the Med's cause to the tune of seven points.

The Spartans started out slowly, but gained momentum as they rolled along, getting only ten points in the initial stanza to the Meds six. In the second half, the winners continued to show too much power for the Doctors, outpointing them 15:12.

In the second game of the evening, between the Phys Eds II and the Powder Puffs, Phys Ed snatched an early lead of four points which they barely managed to retain throughout the session.

The winners showed no individual stars, with the scoring being divided among almost the whole team. Thompson led the bunch with five points followed by Hall, Peart and Wagner who netted four markers each.

Jonas led the Powder Puffs accounting for six points. McDermid and Galtens contributed four apiece to round out the major scoring for the losers.—A. L.
